DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on December 15, 2005.
2. Applicant's election with traverse of Group I in the reply filed on December 15, 2005 is acknowledged. However, Applicant did not provide any grounds for the traversal.

In the absence of any argument to the contrary, the requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Specification

3. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: in paragraph [0037], line 3, it appears that "communication" should be "communicate". Further, in paragraph [0045], line 1, it appears that "12" should be "20".

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Langan et al. (5,482,753).

Regarding claim 1, Langan discloses a multipart business form, comprising a substrate 10 having first and second portions, top 11 and bottom 12 edges, first 14 and second side edges and first 16 and second 17 faces (see Fig. 1); the first portion of said substrate having at least one separable identification piece 31 suitable for recording personal or event information; and the second portion including at least one postcard 27.

Regarding claim 11, the recitation that the substrate is “an event participation form,” that the identification pieces are “for event participants,” that the information thereon is “relating to an event,” and that the postcard is “for providing feedback to an event sponsor” are merely statements of intended use and do not distinguish over the prior art.

Regarding claim 15, the article is a water heater, and the statement that the postcard is “for requesting information about said article” is merely a statement of intended use and does not distinguish over the prior art.

Regarding claim 12, this is merely a statement of intended use and does not distinguish over the prior art.

Regarding claims 2 and 14, the identification piece 31 is a tag.

Regarding claims 3 and 13, Langan discloses using a pressure-sensitive adhesive of the type known as CLEAN-TAC®. Although Langan does not use the phrase “pressure-sensitive,” it is known that CLEAN-TAC® is, in fact, a pressure sensitive adhesive. (See the reference to Kline, U.S. Pat. No. 5,503,435).

Regarding claim 4, the method of forming the device is not germane to the issue of patentability of the device itself. Therefore, this limitation does not distinguish over the prior art.

Regarding claims 5 and 6, see lines 28, 29.

Art Unit: 3611

Regarding claim 7, the second portion includes a card. Stating that the card constitutes a "receipt" is merely a statement of intended use. Further, it has been held that patentable novelty cannot be principally predicated on mere printed matter and arrangements thereof, but must reside basically in physical structure. In re Montgomery, 102 USPQ 248.

Regarding claim 9, although it is noted that the intended use of the postcard 27 is not patentably significant, postcard 27 is, in fact, a response card.

Regarding claim 10, although it is noted that the intended use of the identification piece 31 is not patentably significant, identification piece 31 is, in fact, used to identify a household good.

Conclusion

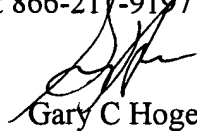

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
